

LATEST NEWS

Volume 47 - April 2017

Tucson has a long history of horseback riding with its roots as a Western town and the continued Rodeo Days celebration that happens each year. This past Fall another option for horseback riding re-emerged as the Hilton El Conquistador partnered with Pot A Gold Stables to once again offer guided trail rides, horseback riding lessons, carriage rides, and hay rides. These services are open to both resort guests and the public. Trail ride costs begin at $60 for a one hour trail ride and go up to $120 for a 2 hour sunset trail ride. Riding lessons are $75 and offer a good opportunity to improve riding skills. Children 5 and up are welcome. More info can be found at the Pot A Gold website where you are able to book reservations online. Experience some of the great NW Tucson trails on horseback!
