

LATEST NEWS

Tucson's phenomenal weather has continued into 2018 and it reinforces how desirable living in the "Old Pueblo" can be for outdoor enthusiasts. Whether someone enjoys hiking, cycling, running, mountain biking, or simply spending evenings on the patio, Tucson offers nearly year round opportunity to enjoy time outdoors. The continued expansion of Tucson's multi-use path trail system further enhances this appeal. As construction along Tangerine progresses, additional multi-use path is being added alongside the roadway, and "The Loop" actually became a full loop in December. A highly utilized network of pathways, The Loop already encompasses 120 miles of path with another 11 planned or under construction. Visit Tucson and get outdoors!

Volume 71 - January 2018

Angela Greynolds is now a Graduate, REALTOR® Institute having completed an extensive set of educational courses. This designation is among the most rigorous and prestigious that a REALTOR can achieve. In fact, it requires more than double the hours needed to get licensed. She joins Stephen who earned this same designation. Congratulations Angela!
